

COMMERICAL LENDING

Introducing RAGE-AI™

End-to-end lending solution for a global financial institution
[interfaces to 50 internal systems,
200 screens and 250 users]
implemented in only 77 days.

Business Problem

- Financial institution's desire to process loan applications efficiently and speedily.
- Current solutions are rigid and do not allow the addition of new score cards, underwriting logic, or new products without significant time and effort.
- Increased regulatory scrutiny demands that financial institutions adhere to strict regulatory requirements while also boosting efficiency.

Solution

- A RAGE-AI™-enabled automated and flexible loan origination and processing solution that delivers straight through processing with exception management.
- New products can be easily added without any programming and underwriting rules/scorecards can be implemented within hours.
- All processing is institutionalized in a flexible manner, ensuring high levels of compliance.

Benefits

- End-to-end lending solution for a global financial institution [interfaces to 50 internal systems, 200 screens and 250 users] implemented in 77 days.
- One significant release every week for the last two years reflecting a high level of flexibility.
- Deployed a commercial card version in 15 countries in 90 days with complete localization.
